Composer of the Month:

RANDALL THOMPSON

Happy birthday this month to Randall Thompson, American composer born in April of 1899! He's a 20th Century composer, which means as far as music is concerned, pretty much anything is ok! His most famous work is a song called "Alleluia." This is a very sad piece. There is only one word in the whole song – alleluia, then finally at the end – amen. Thompson wrote this song in 1940 and was thinking about World War II and how sad the people in Europe must have been with the war all around them.

Listen to the second half of this mystical piece and see what kind of movements you can do to match the music: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=KmvTUiugD-k>

Music & Movement:

Now let's go on a lion hunt together! Double click the link below to hear the song. Then cut out these pictures and glue them on a separate sheet of paper in the order you hear them in our song. You just created a listening map! Now you're all ready to go on your own lion hunt! Take your listening map and double click on the link again.

Have fun!

(But don't forget to watch out for that sleeping lion!!!)
